You are invited to the presentation of the latest issue of the "Green Deal Watch", a flagship quarterly publication by the Istituto Affari Internazionali (IAI). The event is an opportunity to look beyond the technicalities of single dossiers that are being discussed 'in the bubble' and take the pulse of where the overall strategy of the European Green Deal is heading, including a stocktaking on European RES targets after last year's encouraging figures on solar rooftop deployment, strategic reflections on the 'new normal' in energy prices and tradeoffs in Europe's strategy to control more of the critical material and net zero technology value chains.

The discussion will be held in English
